PART ONE

SIGLE to OpenSIGLE in 5 seconds

Traffic Report: January – October 2008

Geographic Origin of Visitors

November 2007 – October 2008

Usage and feedback

OpenSIGLE - Provenance

Mois de Octobre 2008

- Steady increase of visits
- Geographic origin more diversified than for other INIST sites
- Many users from Medicine and Health sciences
- Complex search strategies and limits of DSpace

Promotional Activities

- DSpace user meeting (Rome) October 2007
- I-expo (Paris) May 2008
- Press release July 2008 → increase in French visitors
- “In the news” on INIST homepages (French and international)
- Google and Google Scholar
- WorldWideScience.org – since September 2008

Future Developments

- Change of “look” of the website
- Project to upload French records from 2005 onwards
- Request to link to full text in external sources
- Add Dutch records ?
- Add current records from other countries
- More networking (Scirus/Scopus)

PART TWO

GreyNet, On the Background and Forefront

- GreyNet's relationship with EAGLE/SIGLE prior to mid-2000
- Relaunch of GreyNet in 2003
- Liquidation of EAGLE/SIGLE in 2005
- OpenSIGLE - From a Proposal to Implementation 2005-2007
- GreyNet signs on to the OpenSIGLE Repository 2007

GreyNet Community in 2008

- Metadata record customized for enriched publication
- GreyNet's Conference based collections migrate to OpenSIGLE
- Now, 5 Years of Research in OpenSIGLE (GL5, GL6, GL7, GL8, GL9)
- GL10, GL11, ... will likewise follow suit
- Contact with Emerald concerning first 4 GL-Conferences (1993-1999)
- Initial feedback from GreyNet Community on OpenSIGLE

GreyNet's Potential for OpenSIGLE

- GreyNet has even more to offer than its collections
- What EAGLE was to SIGLE, GreyNet could be to OpenSIGLE
- An established network service specializing in Grey Literature
- A history of completed research projects (2003-2008)
- Education and Instruction on Grey Literature
- Promotional Outreach and a Publishing Arm

Some Project Considerations

- Streamlining the SIGLE Classification Scheme for OpenSIGLE
- Metadata templates according to various document types
- Plus links to datasets and software underlying published research
- Networking with former EAGLE members and new stakeholders in GL
- A crosswalk to subject based and institutional GL Repositories
